LE MONDE

In 60 minutes, you will be transported from your seat to the nightclubs of Egypt, Carnival in Brazil, the Moulin Rouge in Paris, a luau in the South Pacific, the market square in Anatolia, and back to the exciting new world of World dance theater. A dramatic entrance by the entire ensemble sets the exotic mood for the evening. At one point, swirling silk fills the stage with mystique and grace in a veil dance inspired by Salomé. The show explores a variety of upbeat Egyptian dances, punctuated by Tahitian hula, French Can Can, Indian Bollywood, and Brazilian Samba. An energetic drum solo and vivacious finale complete the show. Even the audience gets a chance to participate!

PRAISE FOR FLEURS D'ÉGYPTE DANCE CO.

"Arabic Beat rocked the house from beginning to end...their energy really melded and projected as one. The show sold out, and the standing ovation was well deserved. I can't wait to see where the talents of these five women take them."

-Kitiera - Director of the Kitiera World Dance Co.

"Fleurs d'Égypte Dance Company, Seattle's resident Oriental Dance Company, have put together a flashy, Las Vegas style floorshow at the Can Can that would put the Bellydance Superstars to shame!

It's exotic, it's entertaining, and it's a spectacular tribute to world dance by local award winning dancers whose talents span the globe. While the main emphasis is on belly dance, from the traditional sword dance, to finely tuned choreographies in the modern Egyptian style, the show also features other percussive dance styles, from a South Seas Tahitian to a South American samba. Throw in a saucy Can Can with the splits, and it turns into an international dance revue with beautiful girls, lavish costumes, and first-rate production values.

One of the reasons the show is so great is that each dancer gets to strut their stuff as a soloist, which highlights their individual talents.

And did I mention that at the end of the show some lucky guy gets picked to go onstage and dance with the Fleurs?

So go, have fun and enjoy one of the best World Beat dance shows you'll find on the West Coast!!!

-Mish Mish (legendary Seattle Belly Dancer)

"Superb show! The Fleurs are an amazing troupe. You can tell they love what they do - it shows in every step, and every dance. The show has great variety, and makes for an amazing night of pure talent! I cannot wait to see it again! A must see for anyone who likes dance."

-Mollie Singh (award winning Indian dancer since 1981)
